My dream job

My dream job is to be a teacher, because I love learning and helping others to learn. I know it will be challenging, but I'm ready to face the difficulties and make a difference to students' studies. On the one hand, I will study Chinese hard from now on, aiming at becoming a Chinese teacher in the future. On the other hand, I will help my classmates with their Chinese as much as possible. In this way, I can not only help others, but also improve my skills in teaching. I believe I can realise my dream and become a good teacher.

How time flies! I've been a middle school student for two years. During the two years, I have learned a lot of knowledge, and I also know it is important to serve society.

So I usually join a group of my classmates and teachers to help clean up the streets and the parks on weekends. We laugh and joke while cleaning up the streets and the parks, making the activities more enjoyable. Usually after a few hours, the streets and the parks look clean and beautiful.

Such kind of activity is not only meaningful but also teaches me the importance of contributing to society.

A story between my friend and me

There is always something unforgettable in my life, especially the story between my friend and me.

It was a sunny day, and we decided to climb the mountain. We were both excited about it. As we were on the way to the top of the mountain, we saw a small stream, so we decided to take a break and play by the stream.

Suddenly, I fell into the stream. I was very afraid, but my friend immediately jumped into the river to help me. Together, we managed to climb out of the river.

The experience made me realise how important the friendship is.

Friendship is priceless. What's the most important about friendship? I think trust and honesty are the most important.

Let me share a story with you. I had a friend, Zack. Once, I lost my wallet. There was much money and a lot of important things in it. I was very worried and didn't know what to do. Zack looked for it everywhere. At last he found it and returned it to me, though there was a lot of money inside. He is really an honest friend. Since then, I have trusted him more.

Without trust and honesty, friendships will not last long. So be honest to your friend and trust each other. In this way, you'll be good friends forever.

Nowadays more and more people offer to help those in need. Volunteering is very important because it helps people in need and makes us feel good too.

I want to be a volunteer and help people in need in my community. I will help the elderly with their housework, play with little kids when their parents are out, and do some cleaning in the community. It will be a great experience for me.

I hope more students will join me and become volunteers too. Together, we can make the world a better place to live in.

Making friends in junior high school is a wonderful experience. I have a good friend named Tom, a tall and outgoing boy. We have a lot in common, such as playing sports.

One of the most unforgettable things between us was about a final exam. I felt anxious and was afraid that I would fail. Tom knew about my problem. He listened to me patiently, and then shared his learning experience with me. Thanks to his help, finally I got good grades.

Making friends with Tom has made my middle school life more enjoyable.
